

Preliminary Agenda

Saturday, October 19, 2024
UNM Domenici Center, Albuquerque, NM

The New Mexico Research Symposium (NMRS) will be hosted in 2024 by the New Mexico Academy of Science (NMAS), held in conjunction with the New Mexico Science Teachers' Association (NMSTA) Fall Conference, and collaboratively organized with New Mexico's Established Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (NM EPSCoR). NMRS is an annual conference with oral presentations, a poster competition, and outstanding teacher awards. The conference is geared to undergraduate and graduate students from New Mexico's colleges and universities and to science teachers and faculty members.
